Corrosion Technologies CorrosionX

- CorrosionX is the most advanced and effective corrosion prevention compound, lubricant and penetrant in the world!
- Although it may look like a typical oil-based anti-corrosion spray, CorrosionX utilizes a revolutionary technology called Polar Bonding that does far more than merely slow down the corrosion process; CorrosionX actually kills existing rust and corrosion (keeping it from spreading) and provides long-term protection against rust and corrosion on any metal surface.
- Because it sticks to metal, it cannot be easily displaced by pressure, friction or moisture. It lubricates under extreme loads and high temperatures.
- It also penetrates faster and further than anything you've ever used.
- The VOC of CorrosionX is only 4-7%. That's less than 1/10th what is in our competitors products.

- CorrosionX Heavy Duty forms a dripless, dynamic, non-hardening, self-healing film that stubbornly resists erosion by splash or spray - including complete submersion in saltwater.
- It will slowly penetrate existing rust and corrosion, remove moisture and stop electrolysis.
- Unlike wax coatings, it will not dry out, stiffen or crack under stress.
- It will remain for hours on outdrives, even while underway!

PSS (Packless Sealing System) Shaft Seals

Additional Sizes Available. Call for Pricing and Availability

- The PSS Shaft Seal is a mechanical face seal that is created between the flat surfaces of the rotating stainless steel rotor and the stationary carbon flange.
- The stationary carbon flange is attached to the vessels stern tube with hose clamps and the carbon flange is attached to the front side of the bellows with hose clamps.
- The stainless steel rotor is fit on the shaft in front of the carbon flange. It is used to compress the bellows before the collar is secured to the shaft with set-screws. This compression (pre-load) maintains contact between the faces and allows the PSS to compensate for the thrust from the propeller.
- The carbon flange is bored larger than the shaft diameter allowing it to "float" around the shaft and thus compensate for most misalignment and vibration problems.
- The stainless steel collar is sealed to the shaft by two o-rings that are recessed into the bore of the collar. These o-rings rotate with the shaft and stainless steel rotor and do not experience wear during operation.

Duramax DuraBlue™ Composite Rudder Bushings

- A high performance, greaseless, pollution-free bushing.
- DuraBlue needs no lubrication and is exceptionally wear-resistant, with an extremely long wear life.
- High load capability.
- A low coefficient of friction value of 0.04 to 0.08, resulting in no stick-slip during rudder operation.
- Easy to install.
- For Rudder Stocks, Pintles and Steering Gear Bushings: Diameters 1" - 42".
- No lubrication is required. Duramax DuraBlue has a proprietary lubrication formulation integrated evenly in its resin system. Needs no grease or oil, eliminating the risk of costly marine pollution fines. It will operate wet running, or run dry over extended periods of time without lubrication. Even though we acknowledge some engineers still prefer using grease or other lubricants in oscillating machinery, the DuraBlue bushing is completely unaffected by grease, oil and other lubricants.
- Dimensionally stable. Minimum thermal expansion and contraction. Unlike polyurethane rudder bushings that have a wide range of thermal expansion and contraction rate that can affect the interference needed to hold the bushing in place, DuraBlue has a low thermal expansion rate in high and low temperature environments. Experiences no swell and is abrasion resistant. The DuraBlue bushing has virtually no swell when operating in salt or fresh water environments with an absorption rate of <0.09%. It also resists abrasion and wear in the harshest of conditions.
- Chemical and corrosion resistant. DuraBlue remains stable in chemical solutions. It is not affected by many solvents, inorganic solutions, fats, and weak acids. It is non-metallic, non conductive and corrosion resistant.
- Absorbs stresses and high impact loads. Duramax DuraBlue rudder bushings are light in weight and are engineered to better absorb the stresses and high impact loads associated with rudder applications than metal material alternatives. DuraBlue can better handle the damaging effects of misalignment and offers extremely smooth operation with specific pressure of up to 25N/mm2.
- Tolerant to edge loading. DuraBlue is stable even with misalignments and tolerates edge loading. It is an engineered fiber composite material that maintains a high compression strength. Light weight and resists damage or fracture. Has a high strength-to-weight ratio.
- A cost-effective bushing solution. Duramax DuraBlue is a cost effective alternative to materials such as bronze, brass, nylon and other urethane based materials. The DuraBlue engineered bushing works well with all corrosion resistant shaft materials like: 316 Stainless Steel, Inconel, Monel, Stellite, and Gunmetal. A 4 to 32 micro inch surface finish is recommended to extend bushing life.
- Easy to machine. The bushing can be machined by conventional techniques. Can be treated as bronze, but machined dry, without coolant. A tungsten carbide-tipped tool should be used to maintain a fine smooth finish. DuraBlue composite materials are non-toxic, but it is advisable to use adequate dust extraction while machining.

Johnson Cutless® Naval Brass Sleeve Bearings

DURAMAX MARINE LLC

- These bearings adapt equally well to strut and stern tube mounts, and are often used effectively as rudder-stock and pintle bushings.
- Bearing diameters are precision fitted to the designated shaft size with the correct clearance for efficient water lubrication.
- External brass shells are machined and polished to provide easy fitting.
- Specially formulated oil and chemical resistant nitrile rubber is securely bonded to the shell.
- Units with thin shells are available for the struts of small craft.
- Sleeve bearings are usually installed by light press-fitting and locked in place with cone-pointed set screws.
- PRECAUTION: When shrink fitting of the bearing is required, chilling must be achieved by gradual cooling to not more than minus 20° F (-28° C) using freezer or regular ice (DO NOT DRY ICE). NOTE: Pounding or shocking the bearing while in the chilled state could cause the rubber to separate from the shell.

Johnson Cutless® Non-Metallic Sleeve Bearings

DURAMAX MARINE LLC

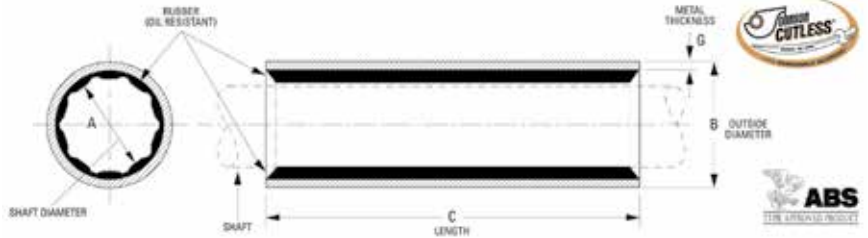

- These bearings feature a dense structure of engineered reinforced thermoset plastic.
- The specially compounded Nitrile Rubber is securely bonded to the shell with all tolerances maintained for proper lubrication.
- Being non-corrosive and inherently resistant to all known chemicals, oil and grease, as well as being anti-electrolytic, the Johnson Cutless Non-Metallic Sleeve Bearings are ideally suited for installations wherever corrosion or electrolysis is a problem.
- PRECAUTION: When shrink fitting of the bearing is required, chilling must be achieved by gradual cooling to not more than minus 20° F (-28° C) using freezer or regular ice (DO NOT DRY ICE). NOTE: Pounding or shocking the bearing while in the chilled state could cause the rubber to separate from the shell.
- All other standard sizes available upon request.

Johnson Cutless® Flanged Bearings

DURAMAX MARINE<sup>LLC</sup>

- Johnson Cutless Flanged Bearings are centrifugally cast naval brass with an integral flange for bolting to stern tube or strut housing to retain bearing and prevent rotation in housing.
- Specially formulated oil and chemical resistant nitrile rubber is securely bonded to the shell.
- Shells are heavy walled providing structural strength and can be step turned if desired.
- Flanges are furnished UN-DRILLED unless specified.
- PRECAUTION: When shrink fitting of the bearing is required, chilling must be achieved by gradual cooling to not more than minus 20° F (-28° C) using freezer or regular ice (DO NOT DRY ICE).
